It is hard to believe that this difficult year is finally over.

I am proud to be chosen to serve as President of CCRW at such a critical time in our nation's history. I hope to earn the trust you have placed in me. I know this has been a rough year, but so many of our club members have stepped up and worked hard for the electoral victories in Texas. We can be TEXAS proud. I know the presidential election has not yet given us clear and incontrovertible winner, but it will and soon. As a club, we must continue to look forward, always focusing on the importance of every election. As our new board and committee chairs start the year, I challenge our members to join a committee. Please find a niche that works for you and get involved. Talk to someone new at our next meeting. Let us get to know each other better, so, when tough times hit, we know we can reach out to other club members.

This next year we are planning to start some new traditions and, of course, continue with the old. We would like to host some fun events in the evenings or on a weekend. If that is not your cup of tea, please do not feel like you must attend, but for those that do, let us have some fun. If you have an idea or know of a place that will open their doors to our club to gather and encourage one another, please let the Events Chair Kristen Day know, or better yet, join her committee.

As the Eyes of Texas are watching Georgia and trying to understand what just happened in our Presidential election, let us continue to pray for President Trump, Vice President Pence, their families, and all our elected leaders.

I look forward to seeing everyone at our next meeting on January 8th 2021!

Roxann Lewis, CCRW President
