Tommye's Tidbits

I can read, I can really read

Our president has urged Americans to become active volunteers in their communities.

There are many needs in each community but none more important than the literacy program, which strives to ensure that "no child is left behind". Whether it is serving as a mentor, volunteering in a local school or providing books to an under-funded library; each is important in providing the opportunity for a child to learn to read.

For several years, I served as a volunteer tutor at an elementary school. The most fulfilling and touching moment was having my first student look up at me hugging her book and with a beautiful smile saying, "I can read, I can really read!" You too can help by providing gently used or new books to a local under funded library. Please refer to our Community Outreach article by J'Neen Henderson for how you can get involved. I know the CCRW will help with this worthy endeavor.?

March Speaker

We are thrilled that this month our speaker will be NFRW 1st Vice President and a Past TFRW President, Dianne Thompson. Dianne chaired the Campaign Committee of NFRW and organized and led several Train the Trainer seminars to help Federation women acquire the tools necessary to train women in their home states in campaign skills and techniques. Dianne was Political Director for Victory 2000 and past president of Kendall County Republican Women.

*Reaching out to our Community...*J'Neen Henderson

It has come to our attention that our neighbor, Devereaux Treatment Center, has an unfunded library and therefore in need of books to stock their shelves. CCRW would like to come to their rescue. We will be collecting gently used or new books at our meetings in order to help build up their shelves. Dictionaries, encyclopedias, and classic novels are some of their current needs. I know that together we can make a difference! Please bring two books to the April meeting. Thank you in advance for your contributions. In addition, CCRW will also be donating two books to the League City Library for the Mamie Eisenhower Library Program.

On the trail...Campaign Hours Due

Quarterly campaign hours are due for January, February and March. Please have your hours ready to submit at the meeting if you have not already emailed them. Thanks for all of your work.

Please check your drawers, files and boxes for any pictures of our club that you might have. Any newspaper articles highlighting our members are also appreciated.

The Runoffs are coming ...

Be sure to vote in the upcoming runoffs on April 9, 2002. Every single vote is so very important given the dismal voter turn out in the primary.
